

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Why is our attorney smiling? Well, usually no one ever reads this stuff. But you, being the conscientious and careful person that you are, have taken the time to look over Karen's hard work. She hopes you like it. Hey, it's her moment in the sun, so we thought we'd just let her enjoy it.

By subscribing to the services of OneSuite Corporation ("OneSuite"), you agree to the following terms and conditions with respect to your account ("Account"). Use of OneSuite's services ("Service") will constitute your consent to these terms and conditions.

The following Document is a contract, legally binding agreement. You must read the entire Terms and Conditions carefully before using or accessing our website or services. By accessing the OneSuite.com website and using any of the services offered or provided by OneSuite, you confirm your acceptance of, and agree to be bound by, all of the conditions of use set forth in this Agreement. Please DO NOT use this website or services if you do not accept all the terms and conditions stated herein and at other places (including FAQ's and Privacy & Security section) on this website.

Ownership of Numbers

You understand and agree that all numbers OneSuite assigned to you, both toll and toll-free, are still the property of OneSuite. You may not transfer the ownership or any part of the Services to any third Party without the expressed consent of OneSuite. In the event a dispute is induced regarding account ownership, OneSuite shall, in its own discretion, determine the rightful ownership of the number. OneSuite will not be liable for any fees or charges applied to your Account induced by such dispute.

You also understand and agree that OneSuite may from time to time, due to certain restrictions, need to change the number assigned to you; and OneSuite may re-assign the number to another customer immediately following the termination of your OneSuite Account. OneSuite will not be liable for any and all damages arising from such causes, and you hereby waive any claims against OneSuite. You may request in writing that OneSuite, prior to termination of your Account, transfer your toll-free number assigned to you to another carrier, provided that your Account is in good standing. OneSuite may, in its sole discretion, grant or deny such request. If such transfer request is granted, a $20.00 transfer-service charge will be deducted from your OneSuite Account.

Directory Listing

You acknowledge that OneSuite does not publish any phone number assigned to you. In addition, OneSuite will neither assist nor be responsible for any expenses of your request in publishing any phone number(s) provided by us. Please be advised that we have no control over any publications or directory listings done by previous subscriber of the number assigned to you. If you receive calls from previous subscriber's callers, you shall contact us immediately to replace it with a new number, and this is the only remedy you will receive from us for such incident. You also understand and agree that you will be solely responsible for any expenses, fees, damages, and/or losses with regards to the publication or directory listing of the phone number(s) provided by OneSuite.

Password Security

All users are responsible for keeping their own OneSuite account password confidential, and restricting access to such User's computer. All users agree to accept full responsibility for all activities that occur within their OneSuite accounts. Please highly protect your OneSuite login password. Password changing on regular basis is highly recommended.

Real-Time Account Management

To reduce the data loading time on the Internet, OneSuite website only provides call history ("Call Detail Record" or "CDR") for the last 90 days. OneSuite highly recommends that you print or save your own CDR on monthly basis. OneSuite reserves the right to pull out any call history from the website that is more than 90 days old. Inquiries for CDR more than 90 days old are based on availability of data, and extra service fees will apply.

Newsletter

OneSuite occasionally releases newsletters for its latest products, services, special deals, and other business-related news. The newsletter service is free and can be subscribed online or by sending a request to our Customer Service. OneSuite disclaims all responsibility and liability for the availability, timeliness, security or reliability of the newsletter releases.

You may unsubscribe this service at any time by unchecking the check box under 'My Info' webpage or contacting our Customer Service by postal mail, phone, or e-mail.

Please note that transmissions by e-mail are not secure and are subject to interception by unauthorized individuals. If you wish to send personal or sensitive information, we highly recommend that you contact our Customer Service through postal mail or phone.

Cancellation

This agreement shall remain in full force until such time that it is cancelled by either party. OneSuite may cancel, suspend, or otherwise terminate Service at any time without prior notice for any reason which in OneSuite's judgment may preclude it from receiving payment for its services. To cancel OneSuite, write to: OneSuite Corporation, Customer Service, 615 South Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, California 90017, USA. Your letter must be signed by you and must also include your OneSuite PIN and current mailing address. Upon OneSuite's receipt of your notice of cancellation you agree that OneSuite has authorization to initiate a final charge if an outstanding balance exists.

Billing

A subscription to OneSuite requires a credit card number for credit verification and payment of charges. By providing OneSuite with a credit card number, you grant OneSuite authorization to submit charges. You are responsible for preventing unauthorized use of your Account. You are entitled to refunds, reimbursements, credits, and exchanges for any portion of your account balance only at the discretion of OneSuite and only if such request has been made by you. Refund will go to the last record of the original payment method. No refunds shall be given for OneSuite Credits that are not directly acquired online from OneSuite.com (e.g. promo codes, vouchers, or referral bonus), or to Members of an OneSuite Business Account for OneSuite Credits paid for by the Administrator.

If you sign up for any OneSuite subscription-based services, the monthly fee will be deducted from your account balance on the day after you sign up. For example, if you sign up for SuiteAdvantage on May 5th, the monthly fee will automatically be deducted from your account balance on the 6th (anniversary date) for the period from the 7th through the 6th of the following month. You can cancel your subscribed service(s) at any time and you will not be charged for any additional renewals. For example, if your anniversary date is the 6th of each month and you cancel your SuiteAdvantage on October 20, then you will not be charged on Nov. 6 (for the Nov. 7 - Dec. 8 period) and your SuiteAdvantage will terminate on October 20. There are no refunds for any time period (or portions thereof) already billed or paid for. Bills from your other Long Distance Carriers

OneSuite will only charge calls that were connected through our network. We are not responsible for calls that were placed through any carriers other than OneSuite. We disclaim all such bills as the result of any action or practice done by customers.

Expiration Date

The Account (PinDial or ZipDial) will expire 6 months after the date of first purchase, or the date of each recharge, SuiteTreat bonus redemption, subscription fee charge (for expiring accounts ONLY), or last outbound usage. The outbound usage includes calling card usage, VoIP usage, OneSuite Fax and OneSuite Forwarding usage. For example, if today is January

1 and your current expiration date is May 1, when you make an outgoing call today, the expiration date will be extended to July 1.

OneSuite reserves the right to disable or to terminate your account login and remove all other features and services if the account balance remains inactive for a period of six (6) months after the account has expired. OneSuite is not obligated to refund any of the unused balance in the expired and disabled account. The username, PIN(s), and phone numbers associated with a terminated account may be given to another user without notice to you or such other party.

Account

Please protect all your account information. OneSuite is not responsible for lost, stolen PIN(s), or unauthorized usage of your account.

Exception to the Rules

While we try our best to eliminate any additional taxes or surcharges to let you pay for only the minutes you have used, there is one exception when you call from a pay phone. Please note that 55¢ will be charged for each call made from a pay phone as the FCC regulations have allowed pay phone companies to impose fees on outside carriers and dial-around services (like ours) for using their phones. Therefore, such charge will occur each time you make a call from a pay phone using your OneSuite account in order to recover the charges imposed by the pay phone companies.
